We should thank the members of this staff for their effort in making the best yearbook possible although there is a war on. They have overcome unknown difficulties and worked long hours to make it a complete job. Under the guidance of the new sponsor, Miss Lucille Klauser, they have done their job well.

DEDICATION

In order to maintain the four freedoms upon which our democracy is built—freedom of speech, freedom of worship, freedom from want, and freedom from fear—students from University High School have entered the service of their country. To these students we dedicate this Clarion.

IN THE SERVICE . . .

Don Cushman	Navy
Ralph Bankert	Army Air Corps
Richard Metcalf	Navy Medical Corps
Ted Weldon	Navy Air Corps
Bill Johnston	Navy
Ed Cross	Army
Bruce Burris	Navy
Paul Purinton	Army
Don Fuller	Army
Dean Creager	Army

To these boys, our former classmates, we wish the best of luck. We would like them to know that we of U. High are behind them in all that they may undertake. We are sorry that these boys cannot be with their class in its graduating festivities, but although they are not in body, they will be present in spirit.

MISS HUGGINS

MISS KLAUSER

MISS MCAVOY

MISS TUCKER

IN RECOGNITION . . .

To Miss Alice Ebel, we the students of University High School wish good luck in her new position as a Wave. Miss Ebel was the sponsor of this year's Student Council until she entered the Waves.

To Miss Huggins, the members of the Clarionette staff wish to thank her for her leadership this past year as their sponsor.

To Miss Klauser, the members of the Clarion staff wish to extend their sincere thanks for her loyalty, cooperation, and helpfulness during this year as their sponsor.

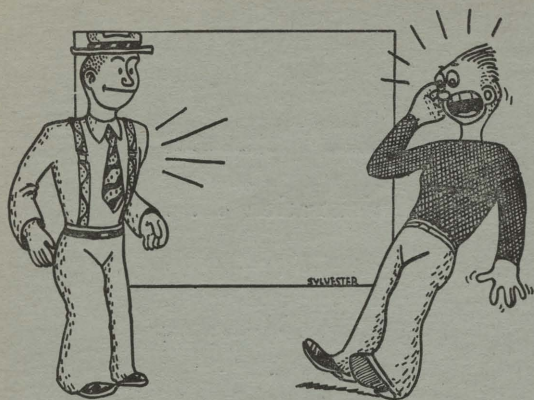

To Miss McAvoy, the members of the Senior Class want to thank her for her leadership and guidance.

To Miss Tucker, the students of University High School pay their last respects in this issue.

OFFICE STAFF . . .

Any person who spends much time at University High School soon becomes familiar with the office and the efficiency of its friendly staff. It seems that it is to one of them that a student usually goes first to disclose a confused schedule, a completely forgotten excuse for that absence from Friday's study hall, a lost locker key, or any of the other dozen things confronting high school students.

Besides trying to make the dazed little freshman feel happy and at home, our staff must handle tactfully problems of the mighty but rather difficult senior. The office staff files all records, provides a well balanced program of studies for each individual person, sends out the many notices which are necessary in order that the various duties of teachers and students are carried out on time, handles the big job of keeping the attendance straight and answers the telephone which seems to ring most of the time; these are just a few of the jobs done in our high school office. We all agree that our staff is doing a good job despite wartime shortages. We are always happy to introduce any visitors to our office personnel.

The staff this year includes Miss Lois Jahnke (ISNU), Miss Alice Ebel who is now serving in the Waves, Miss Betty Von Allmen (ISNU), and of course our principal, Dr. Sherman G. Waggoner.

Seated: Admire, Dragoo, Young, McAvoy, Day, Ellis, Stombaugh, Warren, Atkin, Stephens, Winegarner, Stroud.

Standing: Isted, Brown, Sherrard, Laws, Westhoff, Flag, Murray, Huggins, Connell, Klauser, Stubblefield, Thielen, Poppen, Hansen, Webb, De Wees, McDavitt, Rine, Boicourt, O'Connor, Whitten, Fogler, Allen, Shea, Waggoner.

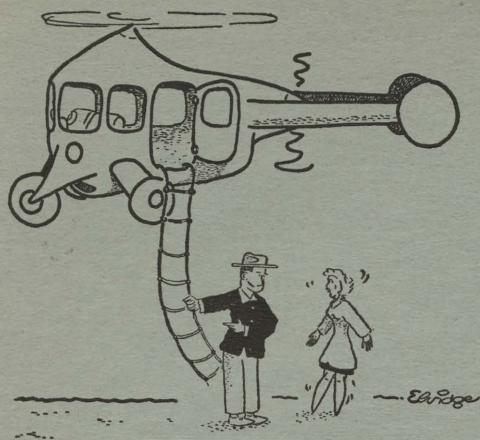

THE FACULTY . . .

Students of University High School are very fortunate in having for their principal, Dr. Sherman G. Waggoner, one who is possessed of kindness, understanding, and keen insight into student problems. Due to his skillful leadership and the excellent guidance of all members of the faculty, graduates of University High leave with feelings of confidence that they are well-prepared for their future undertakings. All of the forty-five members have Masters degrees and many have received Doctors degrees in Education or a special field. Not often does a school the size of this one have teachers who are so well qualified in their teaching fields. Faculty members have at all times shown that they are working for the best interest of the school. A number have accepted the responsibilities of sponsors for extra-curricular activities and have given freely of their time and efforts toward the growth of these organizations. It is with respect and admiration that students of University High School speak of their faculty.

SENIOR CLASS . . .

The seniors elected for their leaders this year Connie Kinneman as president; Dick Metcalf as vice president; Jean Hurst as secretary; and Chuck Hammerlund as treasurer. Dick Metcalf entered the Navy in March and so Margaret Harvey was elected at a special class meeting to fill his office.

Connie Kinneman reported that approximately two thirds of the class ordered calling cards and about that many ordered invitations.

The class chose for its annual play "The Cradle Song." The proceeds of the play went for the senior gift to the school. The class worked hard in order that the play might be a great success.

For courtesy week, Connie Kinneman and Dick Norris were chosen as the most courteous girl and boy in the senior class. Margaret Johnson was chosen by the class and faculty for the D. A. R. Award. Congratulations, Connie, Dick, and Margaret.

This year's senior class found out that they had some hidden talents as they worked out a super class night program.

The seniors wish to pay tribute to their sponsor, Miss Blanche McAvoy, who has guided them over the rough places this last year and in the years that are past. As this group of upperclassmen leave to take their places in society, they take with them all that is University High School. To the classes that will follow them they wish to say: "Keep that old U. High spirit going."

WE WHO ARE SENIORS . . .

Some one asked me the other day what was the most interesting thing that I remember in the years I have been in U. High. Well, that is a very difficult question to answer just on the spur of the moment.

There have been many changes both around us and within ourselves; changes in attitude, opinions, views, and feelings—which every class that enters U. High must experience.

Remember when we saw ourselves in that glorious stage as freshmen, new and green, learning how and how not to study and possessed with a foolish social inferiority complex or what have you. Those were the days when we girls thought boys were "queer creatures" in "loud shirts", and the boys thought girls were foolish "chatter-boxes" minus brains. The one question confronting us wasn't who wrote that, what is the favorite dance band, or who is that blonde in my English class; but "Who is Yehudi?"

Then our sophomore year—ah, what sureness! We felt ourselves a part of a huge machine of fellow workers. The greatest achievement was to be able to do more than two yo-yo tricks and to walk down the halls without getting hit by the round object on a string. As for adventure—what senior can forget those "educational" music trips to Gilman, Peoria, etc., nor those famous traction rides, or Russ Morgan at the Co-op party.

And then the pride of being an upperclassman, with a seat in the middle section of Capen auditorium from which the stage could actually be seen and a speaker sometimes heard; we faced a different world! And that sudden discovery that we had minds and could use them really astounded us as much as it amused our teachers. Some of us even ventured into the art of acting—"Charm School" they called it. Then plans for the Prom were made and carried out. Work, yes but it was worth it; we had fun. That is, until the next morning—Ouch my feet! What happened to that ladder?

Now they call us seniors. With this title comes a satisfaction plus a fond regret for many who are finding a great deal of happiness in these old halls. Now you want to know what we consider to be our greatest event in our school years. Perhaps we can't answer this in the way you would like it answered; but we can say this and we mean it: it has been a privilege to work hand in hand with the faculty, to spend our time in study and in play within these walls; to associate with friends and classmates; to share the same experiences, joys, and sorrows with other students; to cheer the same on to victory and to honor it in defeat; to wear the U. High emblem, realizing proudly what it stands for; and to be part of a student governed institution in which we have equality of voice and spirit. The most interesting event was entering the doors of U. High as a freshman and leaving it as seniors fully qualified to face the future and make the world of tomorrow—our world—a better place in which to live!

JUNIOR CLASS . . .

The Junior Class, with eighty-one members this year, carried on its varied and rather nerve-wracking activities.

The class sold candy and pop at the games, parties, and dances given in U. High in order to get some ready cash for the year's activities. The money was used mainly for the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet which was definitely one of the highlights of the year.

Some of the Juniors also went through all the fun (and otherwise) of trying to put on the Junior Class Play. This year the play was "In a House Like This" and, besides providing a lot of fun and work for those responsible for it, it happily reaped a very tidy sum.

Members of the class were represented in all the clubs and sports and very wholeheartedly entered into all school drives and activities.

Many members of the class bought class rings, perhaps the reason for this was that the rings are very beautiful. The rings are gold with the U. High crest on a plain face of the ring.

Juniors contributed a basketball captain, Bob Johnston, to the school, and had many boys participating in all the sports.

The fact that this was the largest class in school should be considered a distinction too.

The able sponsor of the class was Miss Lela Winegarner. When she became ill early in the year, Miss Louise Stubblefield took over the leadership until Miss Winegarner's return in January.

Class officers were: president, Mary Ellen Dunn; vice-president, Mary Lou Stover; secretary, Marilyn Mette; and treasurer, Patricia Lawrence. Sally Stretch and Carol Karr represented the class on the Student Council, and Mary Lou Stover was on the Apportionment Board.

First row: R. Van Huss, B. Benjamin, C. Geske, G. Gottschalk, Y. Maxey, J. Kupfer, P. Hollowell, P. Minch, M. Ward, O. Lanigan, B. Brink, N. Sylvester, L. Cooper, E. Doss.
 Second Row: E. Cross, W. Erickson, D. Greisham, R. Slunn, B. Williams, D. Ragland, B. Kauth, R. Allott, I. Tick, K. Sizemore, J. Teeter, M. Murray, C. Jacobsen.
 Third row: J. Johnston, D. Sherrard, G. Baker, W. Ewing, H. Lebovitz, L. Martin, H. Ziegler.

The officers of the Sophomore Class of 1943-1944 were Jimmy Johnston, president; Irving Tick, vice-president; Glen Murray, secretary-treasurer; Patty Hollowell and Charlotte Miller, student council; Jimmy Johnston and Gerald Rupp, social committee.

Many members of the Sophomore Class enrolled in the music department of U. High. The chorus had in its number many of these ambitious, young students who participated for enjoyment as well as for the representatives of their class. The Sophomores were also represented in athletics. Different members of the class enrolled in the Chess Club, Rostrum, and Thalian. The class, being cooperative and always ready for fun, displayed a willingness to initiate and carry through new ideas and projects. In addition to being full of pep, the class has proved that it came to school to learn, as there were many names from the sophomore class on the U. High honor roll this year.

The Sophomore Class, in looking back over the events of the past year, considered itself extremely fortunate in having as its sponsor Miss Ruth Stroud, whose expert aid and advice helped solve the many problems which arose from time to time.

First row: H. Stowe, B. Saylor, J. Schabb, P. Johnston, D. Patterson, S. Schinn, E. Oesch, E. Kennion, M. Huffington, J. Fleming, J. Kinneman, C. Lowenstein, H. Bane, E. Brynhildsen, J. Galloway, B. Corn, E. Berner, R. Brewer.
 Second row: R. Smith, D. Knoblock, W. Woodburn, J. Corn, B. Sutter, B. Thielan, W. Thorsen, E. Brown, D. Lambarn, Pauline West, J. Saylor, R. Ellerbrock, C. Parker, R. Mentzer, Maurene Jones, M. Earl, M. Lawhun, B. Darnell.
 Third row: D. Culbertson, D. Wall, D. Mattoon, Paul West, C. Short, J. Holmes, D. Sutton, J. Terrill, B. Landis, F. Jenkins, J. Marten, D. Yates, N. Jefferson, D. Doud, Morris Jones, D. Colville, F. Enos, G. Barclay, D. Donaldson, J. Burkhish.

FRESHMAN CLASS . . .

This year the freshman class of University High School was a very ambitious group. Immediately after the first semester the class held a meeting under the supervision of Miss Ruth Huggins, the class sponsor. Bill Mette was elected president; Pauline West, vice-president; and Joan Kinneman, secretary-treasurer. Maurene Jones and Bill Mette were elected representatives of the freshmen class for the student council.

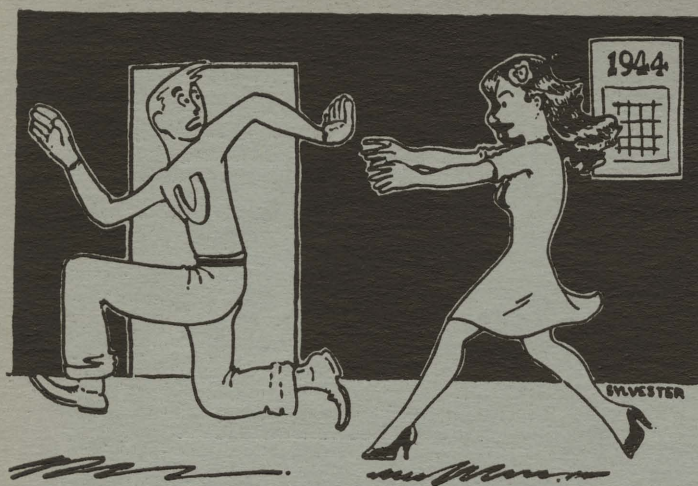

The freshman class was always well represented at the various school affairs and in all the school activities. The group was active in extra-curricular clubs and sports. At the girls' basketball tournament the freshman girls proved to be quite essential to many of the teams. At the student council election held in March two members of this class ran for offices. The class should be very proud of the fact that Joan Kinneman was elected treasurer of the student council for the year '44-'45. A large percentage of the freshmen were on the school honor roll every six weeks.

The only party sponsored by the class was an all-school party held in April. This party, well-attended and well-planned, proved that the class had a fine group of leaders and members. The class owes much of its progress to its capable and pleasant sponsor, Miss Huggins.

STUDENT COUNCIL . . .

This year Student Council started off with a bang! There was a dance the first week of school, given so that the "freshies" and new students could get acquainted with the rest of the school.

Next, in October, Homecoming was here! Preparations were made for a snake dance, a pep session, a football game, and a big dance afterwards! Many alumni, including several servicemen, came back. On the whole, everything turned out to be a big success.

During the year an assembly was given by Student Council in respect to "courtesy to the American Flag." Later in the year everyone in U. High pitched in and through Student Council made the Youth Center a big success.

With Margaret Johnson, president; Dick Norris, vice-president; Jane Limber, secretary; and Joyce Brynhildsen, treasurer, the year's job was under complete control. Due to the loss of its sponsor, Miss Alice Ebel, who enlisted in the Waves, Student Council chose as her successor, Miss Gertrude Stephens. Miss Stephens has been with this governing body all through the years since its organization. With her leadership and cooperation, the Council has made much progress.

Also through the course of the year different dances were given, two special ones being the Leap Year Dance and the Courtesy Dance in February. The service flag was kept up to date by the aid of certain representatives from the Council, and a War Scrapbook was started. An attempt was made to collect pictures of the alumni in the armed services, and some progress was made. Everyone should give a vote of appreciation and thanks to this group and hope that in years to come the Student Councils accomplish as much as the one of 1943-1944.

National Honor Society . . .

This year the National Honor Society got off to a good start under the leadership of Dr. Robert Ellwood, who is sponsor of the group. The project that was undertaken was to revise and publish the school handbook.

Some of the members were taken in the last semester of last year. They were Connie Kinneman, Helen Allott, and Margaret Johnson.

On November tenth, the initiation of the senior members was held. The new initiates were Barbara Horton, Joy Chapman, Martha Behr, Wilbur Sylvester, Jean Lamkey, Margaret Harvey, and Jean Ann Otto.

Later in the year a meeting was held and officers were elected. The president, Martha Behr; vice president, Margaret Harvey; and secretary-treasurer, Barbara Horton, did a grand job.

The Walter Dill Scott chapter of the National Honor Society was organized in University High School in 1934. Election to membership is based upon the four qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

Seated: M. Johnson, C. Kinneman, H. Allott.

Standing: W. Sylvester, J. Otto, M. Behr, J. Chapman, J. Lamkey, M. Harvey, B. Horton.

Latin Club . . .

The newly established Latin Club, sent spinning on its career last year by the charter members, is rapidly gaining momentum until it is now known to be within the inner circle of University High School clubs. Following in the footsteps of last year's pioneer officers are Peggy Minch, president; Patty Hollowell, vice-president; Barbara Benjamin, secretary; and Peggy Harrison, treasurer. The sponsor of the club is Miss Regina Connell, who teaches Latin in the high school and in the university. Her excellent guidance and ready suggestions have helped the club pull through the pitfalls which await any new club.

In November the club produced a radio program entitled "Some Freshmen Look at Latin." The club also had a Christmas Party and enjoyed the festivities Roman style. The club and its activities make Latin more interesting, as well as easier, for the students and eliminates the drudgery of assignments.

Seated: B. Brown, M. Huffington, B. Benjamin, P. Minch, P. Hollowell, J. Fleming.

Standing: Miss Connell, D. Greisham, W. Thorsen, B. Corn, G. Gottschalk, B. Thielan, B. Lusher.

Thalian . . .

"Hurry! You'll be late for the first meeting. Don't forget that five cent fine for tardiness."

"Ok. I'm ready. What's the question for debate tonight?"

"Resolved: that pre-Pearl Harbor fathers should be drafted."

"That's interesting. You know Thalian certainly helps to broaden one's interests, doesn't it?"

"Yes indeed. By the way, who are the first term officers?"

"Connie Kinneman is president; Betty Cross, vice-president; Mary Lou Stover, treasurer; Margaret Harvey, secretary; and Carol Karr, sergeant-at-arms."

"Miss Stubblefield is our sponsor this year."

"Oh good! She is very pleasant to work with and always has helpful suggestions."

Thus we have a typical conversation before Thalian's first meeting of the year.

Projects undertaken during the year were the selling of defense stamps and the presentation of an all-school St. Patrick's dance.

Second term officers were Mary Lou Stover, Jean Ann Otto, Marilyn Mette, Carol Karr, and Sally Stretch.

Seated: S. Stretch, C. Karr, M. Stover, J. Otto, M. Mette, B. Horton.
Standing: D. Bartram, G. Gottschalk, M. Johnson, M. Pearson, C. Kinneman, P. Stiegelmeier, Miss Stubblefield, M. Harvey, B. Cross, M. Behr, E. Bell, B. Kauth.

Seated: C. Gamer, R. Abbott, G. Kauth.
Standing: R. Freedlund, Mr. Rine, N. Laws.

Rostrum . . .

Debate training for the boys of U. High is provided by Rostrum. At the meetings which were held on Monday nights, the nine members exchanged ideas on current questions under the sponsorship of Mr. Rine.

During the first semester, the boys were headed by Roderic Abbott, president; Gene Kauth, vice president; Carlton Gamer, secretary-treasurer; and Rogers Freedlund, sergeant-at-arms.

Besides exchanging ideas on current questions, this organization planned a Bond Booth, and asked Thalian members to help carry out their plan: that of establishing a War Savings Bond and Stamp Booth, with alternating members of both clubs selling during the noon hour every day.

The outstanding competitive event of the year 1943-1944 was the Rostrum-Thalian debate. This has been an annual event for almost thirty years.

Standing: Audrey Brust, Paul Elvidge, Barbara Freedlund, Irving Tick, Joyce Mauney, Betty Burris, Helen Harmon, Jean Ann Otto, Gloria Snyder, Miss Huggins.

Seated: Dorothy Wharton, Jean Lamkey, Esther Dolberts.

Clarionette . . .

The Clarionette was probably the only publication, besides the comic books, that had a widespread reading public in U. High. Every one read it to pick up the latest dirt, which could be found abundantly in "Snoop," the hot little gossip column.

The paper gave summaries of the games, told about radio programs put on weekly by classes in U. High, gave news about dances and parties, discussed Red Cross and War Bond drives; it gave news which was of interest to anyone in school.

Among the features were "Tick and Tock," "Snoop," "Around the Clock," and news of alumni in service.

The paper was published every third week by the staff which included Dorothy Wharton, editor; Gloria Snyder, news editor; Betty Burris, feature editor; Barbara Freedlund; department editor; Audrey Brust, sports editor; Wameta Peyton, girls' sports editor; Helen Harmon, business editor; Bruce Burris, art, circulation, and folder; Esther Dolberts, typist; and Joy Chapman, Carol Karr, Paul Elvidge, Burton Mercer, Dorothy Bartram, Joyce Mauney, Clarise Parker, Duane Vandewater, and Don Cushman, (before he went to the Navy), reporters.

The sponsor was Miss Ruth Huggins.

Library Club . . .

Something new! Yes! Miss Stubblefield, our librarian, started a library club for the benefit of many students who are interested in this kind of work. A meeting was held every two weeks. The club felt as if it were flying high with a membership of twenty-four.

The officers elected by the group were as follows: Barbara Kinder, president; Barbara Williams, vice president; Evelyn Bell, secretary; and Maurene Jones, treasurer.

At the second meeting, the members drew up their constitution. The contended that "The purpose of this organization shall be to understand library practices, to gain an appreciation of good books, and to help keep the library interesting and attractive."

During Book week members brought books to display in the library.

Seated: N. Sylvester, B. Kauth, P. Hollowell, P. Minch, J. Kupher, P. Lawrence, H. Thatcher.

Standing: M. Anderson, Maurene Jones, B. Corn, Miss Stubblefield, M. Hamilton, E. Bell, Morris Jones, B. Lawrence, B. Brown.

Girl Reserves . . .

For the first time in University High School the organization of the Girl Reserves has come into existence. The meetings were scheduled by the members to be held every Thursday and were held at the Y.W.C.A. building.

At the first meeting on the tenth of November the following officers were elected: Pauline West, president; Patsy Johnston, vice-president; and Helen Bane, secretary-treasurer.

Knitting was one of the first projects undertaken by the group. Swimming at the "Y" pool was another activity in which most of the members participated. This organization has been a worthwhile addition to the school's clubs and rates as one of the best.

Seated: R. Mentzer, A. Kenyon, E. Dolberts, D. Patterson
Standing: P. West, M. Brunson, H. Bane, R. Lutz, P. Johnston

B. Shin, J. Harvey, D. Brazelton, C. Gamer, R. Freedlund, R. Abbott, D. Greisham, T. Kinder.

The Chess Club . . .

The Chess Club, which wasn't active during the first semester, took life again when the enthusiasm and sport of chess demanded it. Officers were elected as follows: president, David Brazelton; vice-president, Roderic Abbott, secretary-treasurer, Carlton Gamer. The club was maintained both in the interest of supplying entertainment for the boys and also to teach those who wanted to learn the intricacies of the game.

After school the members were seen seated around one of the tables in the library. Oblivious to everyone and everything in the library, the boys enjoyed many intense games of chess. Although the players didn't notice the fact, there were always a great number of spectators.

Our only wish for the Chess Club is that it may get off to an earlier and better start next year.

Seated: Miss Webb, Miss Winegarner, M. L. Stover, P. Minch
Standing: W. Thorsen, P. Hollowell.

The Apportionment Board . . .

The Apportionment Board was one of the hardest working, yet most inauspicious, groups in University High. Its chief duty was to distribute the money from student activity fees among organizations and clubs of the high school.

Jugglers of fractions and decimals this year were Pauline West, freshman class; Peggy Minch, sophomore class; Mary Lou Stover, junior class; Richard Metcalf and Margaret Harvey, senior class; and Joyce Brynhildsen, student council.

Dr. Waggoner, Miss Webb, and Miss Winegarner served as the faculty advisors.

Dramatics Club . . .

The Dramatics Club of University High School was reorganized this year and became known as the "Junior Jesters." Its sponsor was Miss Mabel Clare Allen. This club met every Monday afternoon from 3:00 to 3:50 p.m.

The officers of the club, elected at the first meeting, were Helen Bane, president; Roderic Abbott, vice-president; and Marijean Hamilton, secretary-treasurer.

The purposes of the club were to know more about plays, to form better speaking habits, to find out what goes on back stage, to learn to act, to learn about stage directions, and to learn how to direct plays.

Activities of the club included plays for assembly, a radio play, and individual projects. Two plays presented before the student body were war bond plays entitled "Mother Buys a Bond" and "Cry Uncle."

BAND . . .

The University High School Band was under the direction of Wayne F. Sherrard, who filled the position of Mr. Peithman. Mr. Peithman was on a leave of absence this year to attend Columbia University in New York.

This year was a difficult one for the band due to the large number of members lost by graduation and the fact that there were no new students transferring from other schools or coming in from grade schools. This reason accounted for the fact that the number of members totaled only nineteen.

Mr. Sherrard expressed the fact that something should be done in U. High to promote a good band. U. High has enough students to make up a large band that everyone will be proud when they march out onto the field. To possess a band such as this the co-operation is needed of all the students and faculty members of U. High.

First row: J. Mauer, J. Rhinehart, M. Harvey, W. Thorsen, J. Fletcher, K. Sizemore, C. Parker, M. Huffington.

ORCHESTRA . . .

This year University High School Orchestra elected Richard Metcalf, president; Marilyn Warmbir, vice president; and Margaret Harvey, secretary-treasurer. These, as well as the rest of the members, have contributed greatly in making the University High School Orchestra an outstanding musical organization.

The orchestra furnished music as a prelude to the Junior Class Play. At this event also several soloists performed. Phyllis Stiegelmeier, Dorothy Bartram, and Fred Buck played a clarinet trio and Joe Maurer, a piano solo. On March 21 the orchestra had the opportunity of performing on a radio program. It also provided music between acts of the Senior Play on March 31.

All in all, the orchestra has accomplished its two-fold purpose: it has given the students of University High School an opportunity to prove their musical ability and has furnished pleasing entertainment for the surrounding community.

First Row: J. Galloway, S. Saylor, B. Saylor, B. Sutter, N. Laws, D. Greisham, G. Harrison, D. Vanderwater, S. Stretch, B. Stretch, B. Horton, B. Cross.

 Fourth row: M Ward, B. Thielan, R. Mentzer, G. Gottschalk, M. Earl, M. Brunson, E. Berner, K. Sizemore, C. Dickinson, R. Ellerbrock, B. Benjamin, P. Brant, J. Kinneman.

CHORUS . . .

This year the University High School mixed chorus elected as its officers the following students: Margaret Harvey, president; Audrey Brust, vice-president; and Jean Hurst as secretary-treasurer.

The activities of this group were somewhat limited. However, they did perform at two assemblies and for a radio broadcast. A small group attended the music contest at Peoria, placing in the third division.

It is the purpose of this group to promote entertainment for the school, a better appreciation of music, and to train voices of its members.

The chorus this year is not as large as it has been in past years. Since many of the boys are now in the armed forces, it consists of mostly girls. But regardless of the shortage of male voices, this small group has contributed much this year in the way of entertainment in U. High.

“In A House Like This”

“Be still, won't you?”

“Doesn't she look cute?”

“I think this is a good play, don't you?”

Comments like these were going through the crowd on the night of November 12th. At that time the Junior Class was presenting “In a House Like This.”

The play itself was about the Ingals family, a common sort of a family who lived in a common sort of a town. The plot centered around the twins, Lois and Bradley, who believed they should sacrifice their ambitions for their parents.

Outstanding parts were played by Betty Cross as old Mrs. Bradley, Roderick Abbott as Bradley Ingals, and Mary Lou Stover as Eunice Ingals. Others in the cast included Joyce Mauney, Joan Rhinehart, Norman Laws, Gene Murray, Marjorie Brunson, Burton Mercier, Dorothy Turner, Barbara Kinder, Gene Kauth, and Rogers Freedlund.

The property committee consisted of Nancy Brown, Joan Rhinehart, and Dorothy Turner with Celia Smith as chairman.

Heading the scenery and make-up committee was Carol Karr, chairman, with Audrey Brust, Mary Ellen Dunn, Joan Littell, and Sally Stretch assisting.

On the costume committee there were Alberta Rees, chairman, and Marilyn Meents. Miss Yates was the director, assisted by Marilyn Mette. The cast expressed its mutual feeling when it said that Miss Yates is a grand person with unlimited patience and understanding.

Seated: B. Kinder, D. Turner, N. Laws, M. L. Stover, B. Cross, R. Abbott, J. Rhinehart, B. Mercier.

Standing: G. Murray, M. Brunson, R. Freedlund, J. Mauney, G. Kauth.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY . . .

Under the direction of Miss Ruth Yates of the I. S. N. U. faculty, the seniors this year gave as their play "the Cradle Song" by Gergoris and Maria Martinez Sierra. The two-act play, presented on March 31 in Capen Auditorium, has its setting in a nunnery. In the first act, a girl baby is left on the doorstep of the nunnery, and the nuns finally agree to take care of her if the doctor will legally adopt her. The nuns learn to love the little girl very much, and in the second act which takes place eighteen years later we find them very sad as they help her make preparations for her approaching marriage. The play presented some very good character studies.

Excellent help was given to the cast by the Dominican Sisters, who donated habits and offered helpful suggestions.

The play, presented before an audience of five hundred people, was well received and was financially successful.

The part of Theresa, the orphaned girl, was played by Margaret Harvey. Other parts were taken by Joy Chapman, Janice Armstrong, Dorothy Bartram, Barbara Horton, Jean Ann Otto, Marjorie Lawrence, Gloria Snyder, Jane Limber, Martha Behr, Wilbur Sylvester, Paul Elvidge, and Donald Wood.

Left to right: J. Limber, J. A. Otto, M. Lawrence, M. Behr, J. Armstrong, D. Wood, D. Bartram, J. Chapman, W. Sylvester, B. Horton, M. Harvey, P. Elvidge.

FOOTBALL . . .

The University High School squad this year started under a handicap by losing Captain Paul Purinton to the Army, but two transfers, John Wroan from Deer Creek and Earl Fry from Downs, and several members of the freshmen-sophomore team filled out the roster. Before leaving for the Navy, Don Cushman played in several games.

The acting honorary captains were Don Fuller and Bob Johnston. In the backfield most of the ball-carrying was taken care of by Bob Johnston and Wayne Wilson, with Johnny Wroan and Jerry Barker doing their shares. On the line, the end positions were ably held by Earl Fry and Don Cushman. After Cushman left, big Ken Bruno took right end for the rest of the season. Center was either Dave Lewis or Chuck Hammerlund. Harry Ziegler, Charles Mattoon, Don Fuller, Charles Imig, and Don Hoover did most of the playing in the other positions.

The U. High squad conquered Morris, Chenoa, and Leroy this season; however, our three traditional rivals, Trinity, B. H. S., and N. C. H. S., beat us. Although the team put up a good fight against Trinity, the Irish defeated U. High, 19-7. The U. High squad got off to a good start against B. H. S., but the Bloomington lads came back with fighting fury and won the game.

Seated: B. Mette, C. Bickler, D. Sutton, J. Harvey, J. Johnston, Q. Short.
 Standing: G. Baker, T. Jenkins, J. Martin, D. James, T. Landis, Mr. Laws.

The Freshman-Sophomore basketball team, although inexperienced this year, will furnish good material for U. High's varsity in the years ahead.

During the past season fundamentals of basketball were stressed. The team lost more games than it won, but in every game the players showed a fighting spirit and the teamwork so essential in the making of a good basketball team.

The Freshman-Sophomore team won 6 and lost 10 games. They scored 352 points against their opponents' 370.

Seated: B. Johnston, K. Bruno, J. Wroan, D. Norris, Jerry Barker.
 Standing: D. Mattoon, D. Sherrard, C. Hammerlund, D. Miller, B. Miller, Coach O'Connor.

BASKETBALL . . .

This winter Coach Burt O'Connor looked forward to the coming of the basketball season with great expectations. Five lettermen, Kenneth Bruno, Dick Norris, Bob Johnston, Don Cushman, and Paul Purinton were returning to the court for the Green and Gold. Reserves from last year, Jerry Barker, and the freshman-sophomore material, including Burton Mercier, Donald Sherrard, and Paul Miller, looked very promising and proved to be.

The news then came that Purinton was going into the armed services. This was a great loss to U. High because Purinton didn't have much trouble putting the ball into the basket. Just as U. High was about to begin the season Captain Cushman also joined the armed forces.

Remember how Bobby Johnston, that little fellow who was always every place at once, kept fellows twice his size guarded and very often, taking the ball away from them, would dash down the court at top speed and at the last moment send a "swisher" through the net? Remember Dick Norris who was always at those baskets for the rebounds? Remember Jerry Barker, the junior who turned out to be one of the best players on the team? Of course, we can't help remembering Bruno and Wroan who were constant threats and high scorers. Johnny Wroan, who transferred from Deer Creek this year, proved to be a main link in the chain. Deer Creek's loss was our gain.

The whole school gives its thanks to Bette Stretch and Jean Hurst for attending all the games and leading the swell cheers for the team; nor must we forget Roderic Abbott, Gene Murray, Rogers Freedlund, and Harry Ziegler who joined the ranks of cheer leaders at the beginning of the second semester and added much to the pep of the basketball games.

Seated: R. Bright, J. Johnston, Q. Short, D. Sherrard, D. Gresham, Barclay, J. Teeter, I. Tick
 Second row: N. Jefferson, R. Abbott, B. Johnston, Jerry Barker, B. Mercier, Jim Barker,
 P. Elvidge, R. Brown.
 Third row: Coach Laws, N. Laws, D. Miller, J. Martin, K. Bruno, D. Norris, E. Fry, J.
 Wroan, R. Creager.

BASEBALL . . .

Baseball has always been a major sport at University High School and our coach, Mr. I. J. Laws, says that we have a very promising squad this spring. It is a young squad, but it has the possibilities of being as good as the teams in past years. The squad has scheduled games with many of the schools in McLean County out of which are games with Normal Community High School and Bloomington High School which generally prove to be very interesting.

The team this year is composed of Bob Johnston, Ken Bruno, Dick Norris, Earl Fry, Jerry Barker, Jim Barker, John Wroan, Clinton Short, Don Sherrard, Jerry Martin, and Jim Johnston. These fellows are backed by many other U. High fellows who have gone out for baseball this year.

Bobby Johnston is to be the number one pitcher of this year's club with John Wroan as a very valuable catcher. U. High opened its season with a win over Danvers High School. When they played Bloomington High on their diamond, U. High walked off with the honors of the game. In the game with Cornell, U. High took a 4-3 nipping.

The team faces difficult opposition but, win or lose, this year's U. High nine will make a good showing and we have a right to be proud of them.

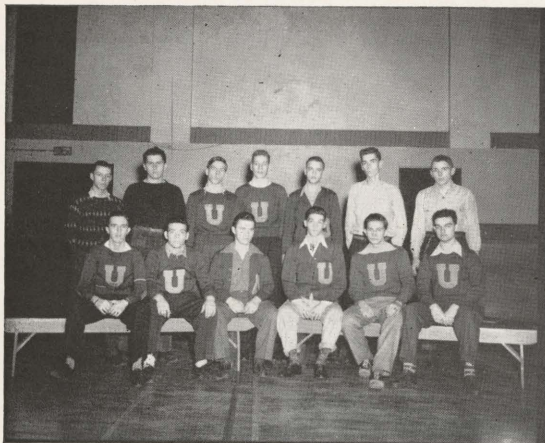

Seated: H. Stowe, B. Ewing, C. Gamer, R. Stoik, R. Blumershire, J. Harvey.
 Second row: D. Wall, G. Baker, E. Roeder, R. Freedlund, W. Amacher, B. Shin, T. Crichfield
 Third row: G. Murray, D. Sutton, H. Ziegler, F. Leshner, J. Maurer, Biggs, G. Wood

TRACK . . .

"Spring is here at last!" some "husky" may call out. Why all the enthusiasm? The answer you will find is very simple. He is a member of the University High School track team and he is waiting to try his skill as a great runner on the cindered oval.

This year's track team is made up of many new faces since Uncle Sam called many members of last year's team. But the team has great possibilities and will prove to be as great a team as the team of last year. The track schedule is as follows:

April	19	Heyworth	Here
April	26	Bloomington H. S.	Here
May	3	Corn Belt Conference	Here
May	9	Intercity Meet	N. C. H. S.
May	12	District	Monticello, Ill.

U. Club . . .

University High School has had an active club since 1936 made up of boys who have achieved athletic letters. To the students of University High School this club is known as the U. Club. As soon as a boy earns a letter in some sport he automatically becomes a member of this club.

The duties of this club are many. Members of the club may be called upon to usher at various sport events, take tickets, and welcome the members of the visiting teams.

Coach O'Connor is the sponsor and director of this club. Under his capable leadership the club has contributed greatly to the development and success of sports in University High School this past year.

Seated: G. Orendorff, C. Mattoon, W. Wilson, Jerry Barker, W. Amacher, C. Hammerlund.

Standing: B. Johnston, C. Imig, H. Ziegler, K. Bruno, E. Fry, D. Norris, J. Wroan.

G. A. A. . . .

The Girls' Athletic Association of University High School had another successful year under the sponsorship of Miss Katherine Thielen. The officers for the past year were Loretta Oesch, president, and Nona Sylvester, vice-president.

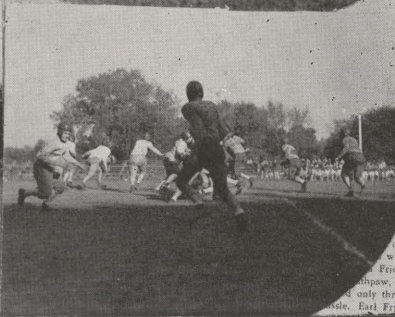

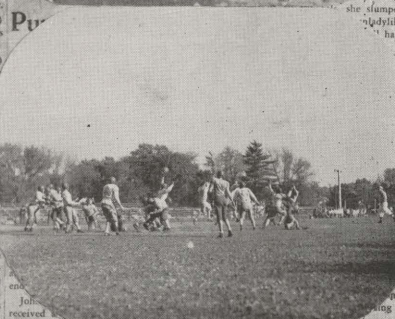

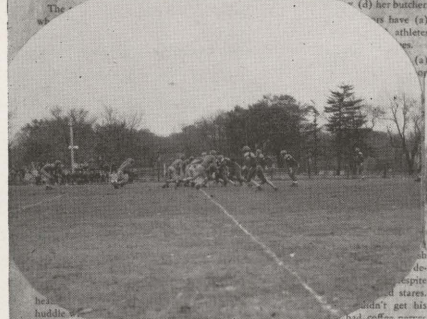

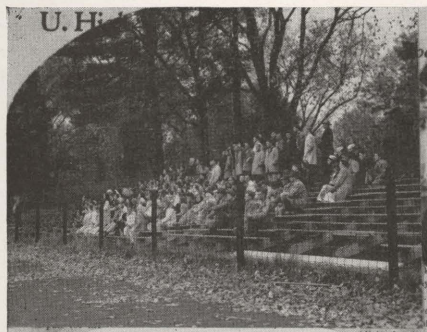

The program for the past year got off with a bang by means of a treasure hunt which ended in Fell Park. A weiner roast and a lively game of baseball followed.

G. A. A. offers a variety of sports and fun. Badminton and field hockey were the main fall sports. Winter brought volley ball and the most enjoyed sport of the year, basketball. The basketball season is always climaxed by a well attended tournament. Warm days in the spring enabled the G. A. A. members to play archery and tennis. In addition to the regular evenings of sports, there was a social meeting one a month.

The purposes of the Girls' Athletic Association are to encourage girls to participate in sports, to further the development of strong bodies and minds, and to promote fair play.

For twenty-three years, this organization in University High School has been a member of the Illinois League of High School Girls' Athletic Associations.

Dear Friends and Gentle Readers . . .

Are you one of those who have added greatly to this section? Are you a moron, or have you some idiosyncrasy whereby you help support this book? If so, you are different from the rest of us; be grateful for small favors.

We are sorry that many of you deserving honorable mention will have to be left out—due to lack of space. To those of you who think you should get peeved, please read the following "little ditty":

Just because we've said some things
That someone's said before
See yourself as others see you,
And don't get sore.
We like you, honest we do;
It's all in fun and nothing more.
We're only teasing you
So, please, don't get sore!

So We've Heard . . .

Joyce Brynhildsen and Betty Crocker have a few things in common.

Miss Huggins received an interesting valentine!
Some people just rate!

Some gals around U. High who have been seen with sailors don't know which is the port side of the boat.

Bette Stretch at last knows how to cook. She also has a bear trap for sale!

"Death Takes a Holiday" seems to be the popular
English Class play. I wonder why?

Jane Limber always says: "A leopard can't change its stripes.

Have You Heard This One? . . .

Chuck H. "Miss Stroud, what would you advise me to read after graduating?"

Miss Stroud. "The 'Help Wanted' column"

Miss Winegarner. "Name two pronouns."

Dick J. "Who, me?"

Betty Von. "Where were you 6th hour today?"

Bill B. "Stop me if you've heard this one."

1st Student. "Our history student teacher talks to herself. Does yours?"

2nd Student. "Yes, but she doesn't realize it—she thinks we're listening."

Teacher: "A fool can ask more questions than a wise man can answer."

Senior. "No wonder so many of us flunk in our exams."

Mr. Fogler. "What, Mary Lou, can you tell me about nitrates?"

Mary Lou. "Well—er—they're a lot cheaper than day rates."

Miss Stephens. "Don, where was the Declaration of Independence signed?"

Don. "At the bottom, I guess."

Miss McAvoy. "Name the constituents of quartz?"

Chuck M. "Pints."

Miss Stephens: "In what battle did Gen. Wolfe, when hearing of victory, cry, 'I die happy'?"

Bob. J. "It think it was his last battle."

A Senior's Most Loved Quotation . . .

"The more we study, the more we know.
The more we know, the more we forget.
The more we forget, the less we know.
The less we know, the less we forget.
The less we forget, the more we know.
So, why study?"
